Washington, Sept. 1.-The result of the bidding for the construction of the three big battleships authorized by congress is eminently satisfactory to the navy department. From the face of the bids it is clear that the governof the bids it is clear that the govern-ment is going to secure much more in the matter of power and speed than was expected; that the cost is going to be less than was paid proportionately for the Illinois class, and, finally, that the department will be able to distrib-ute the work among the three big building concerns, a method of con-struction that always redounds to the advantage of the government.

struction that always redounds to the advantage of the government.

The bids were opened shortly after noon in the presence of a number of representatives of shipbuilding concerns, of bureau chiefs and other men connected with the department. Acting Secretary Allen sat at the head of the table on which the bids were placed, with Judge Advocate General Lemile on his left. Surrounding the table were the representatives of the shipbuilding concerns.

The bills were made in three classes, the first being under the plans prepared by the navy department, calling the first being under the plans pre-pared by the navy department, calling for ships of about 11.500 tons, with a speed of 16 knots. Other chases were under plans prepared by the builders themselves, in some cases on additional plans prepared by the engineering bu-reau, but not included in the original specifications sent out to bidders. The bids were opened in the follow-

A careful examination of these bids shows that the prices asked for the vessels planned on the department designs average slightly less than the price to be paid for the Illinois class, although the ships are improvements in some respects. But it also appears that the bids are within the limit of cost fixed by congress, even where the builders propose to make them of 18 knots speed—much better ships than called for by the department. called for by the department.

It is expected that the only bids con. sidered, Perefore, will be for the Islands ships. In this case the Newport News commany is the lowest bidder, but bids for only one saip. The highest is the Union Iron Works, but the act congress makes an allowance of not exceed 4 per cent in favor of the Pa-fic bidders, so that brings their bid consequently the three ships are likely to be distributed geographically in that order. In the case of the B-knot ships, both Cramp and the Union Iron Works submitted similar plans. The Newport News' bid for the 18-knot vessel is cricing, with them. If it should not

The enormous crowd saw a mile in less than two minutes, and it is safe to say that with slightly different conditions the record would have again been broken. An hour before Pointer came out it rained softly for a few minutes, and when, at 5 o'clock. McCleary drove on the track, the drops were still coming down. The track, however, was in good shape, and there was no wind.

With a running mate Pointer made the quarter in 129%, which gave encouragement, and with the half in 13%, it looked as if he would do something terrific. The afternoon's sport was the best of the week, and drew the largest crowd ever seen at Readville, fully 10,000 persons being present.

Bidders Hired to Sign and Agents Cache County Seems to Be In the Employed Who Were Paid So Much Each Subscriber.

Washington, Sept. 1 .- A wide investigation of specious bids under the last onds has been completed by Solicitor O'Connell of the treasury department, and today he submitted to Secretary Gage the mass of testimony on the transactions. Several thousand subscribers were examined. The facts developed show a systematic scheme operated by single parties to secure a large amount of the bonds. The investigation was the outcome of complaints alleging wrong dealing on the part of many bidders. Secretary Gage promptly instituted the investigation and Solicitor O'Conneil has today, after submitting his report, held a conference for two hours with the secretary on the developments. The reports indicate that millions of dollars in bonds were acquired by irregular means, and and today he submitted to Secretary were acquired by irregular means, and that a number of New York bidders are involved in the case. Many of the bids received from New York are shown to have been either signed by individuals who had no direct interest in them and who had no direct interest in them and subscribed their names simply at the request of, or in consideration of, compensation by other parties, or the bids bore signatures that were forgeries.

Many of the bidders, it is stated, were hired to sign, and the system was carried so far, the report goes to show, that virtual agents were employed, who were paid so much per subscriber, the last named merely signing his name and giving the bid with his signature to the agent or directly to the party to the agent or directly to the party seeking control of a large amount of bids. The report and the exact facts are withheld from publication at this time for prudential reasons, but So-licitor O'Connell said today:

"There is a large amount of fraudulent bids."

It is stated a further investigation is to be made and that the facts developed will be followed by action by the secretary. This, may result in a refusal to issue the bonds in all cases found to have been illegal.

Secretary Gage said tonight that the investigations showed that a large amount of the bids offered were not been fide but that in some of the cases bona fide, but that in none of the bonds heen issued to the bidders. He said he had no doubt, however, that in some instances, as yet undiscovered, the bonds bid for in a similar way unknowingly to the department had been

DASTARDLY WORK OF TRAMPS Train Wrecked In New York, Killing Four, Injuring Eight.

Syracuse, N. The wreck was doubtless due to the dastardly work of tramps, who threw open the switch at which the train was wrecked, as well as two switches to the north of the wreck.

The train was an hour late and was running nearly 60 miles an hour when it struck the switch and was thrown over to the sidetrack. The rapid speed made it impossible to make the safety rail. The engine was thrown 20 feet after the first heat, although Flirt and Hal Wilkes were well up in the third and fourth heats. Maximilian ran away with Geers after the first heat, making the circuit of the track three times and throwing the veteran over the fence. Fortunately, Geers escaped with a few bruises.

The 2:22 trot brought out a dark horse in George, who not only faced the starter for the first time, but took all three heats in the easiest possible manner. The unfinished Massachuseits stake was finally won by Grattan Boy.
